Did you know?

- Dropping a class can affect students current and future financial aid and/or veterans benefits.
- Students are encouraged to contact the Enrollment Center if they are unsure how dropping a class could affect financial aid and/or veterans benefits.
- To have a class considered for financial aid, students must be registered by the Date of Record for each term. Please see madisoncollege.edu/date-record.
- Students must be active in an eligible degree program to be eligible for financial aid.
- The priority deadline for the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) is April 15. As some funding is limited, students should apply at FAFSA.gov as soon as tax returns are completed.
- The Madison College student email is the official address and form of college business communication to all students. For help activating and accessing your email, students may visit madisoncollege.edu/email.
- Advisors, instructors, and staff may now grant class permissions online allowing students to enroll via their Student Center up to the last date to enroll.
- Effective August 1, 2012, automated email communications to the official college student email account are generated when class permissions are granted or revoked.
